2. A copy of the report and its annexes, if any, is being transmitted to the International Bureau for communication to all the elected Offices.

For further details on the applicable time limits and requirements of the elected Offices, see Volume II of the PCT Applicant's Guide.

The applicant's attention is drawn to Article 33(5), which provides that the criteria of novelty, inventive step and industrial applicability described in Article 33(2) to (4) merely serve the purposes of international preliminary examination and that "any Contracting State may apply additional or different criteria for the purposes of deciding whether, in that State, the claimed inventions is patentable or not" (see also Article 27(5)). Such additional criteria may relate, for example, to exemptions from patentability, requirements for enabling disclosure, clarity and support for the claims.

- ☐ contained in the international application in written form.
☐ filed together with the international application in computer readable form.
☐ furnished subsequently to this Authority in written form.
☐ furnished subsequently to this Authority in computer readable form.
☐ The statement that the subsequently furnished written sequence listing does not go beyond the disclosure in the international application as filed has been furnished.
☐ The statement that the information recorded in computer readable form is identical to the written sequence listing has been furnished.

INTERNATIONAL PRELIMINARY EXAMINATION REPORT - SEPARATE SHEET

International application No. PCT/IL02/00861

1. Document GB-A-1 518 654 (D1) discloses a polymeric stent from which the subject-matter of claim 1 differs in that the funnel further comprises at least one gorge, which enables the suturing of the stent to the duct.

As already stated in claim 1 this feature enables the surgeon implanting the stent to suture it easily and efficiently.

Therefore the subject-matter of claim 1 is novel (Article 33(2) PCT) and involves an inventive step (Art. 33(3) PCT).

2. Claims 2-20 relate to preferred embodiments of the subject-matter of claim 1 and as such also meet the requirements of the PCT with respect to novelty and inventive step.
3. Industrial applicability is self evident (Art. 33(4) PCT)
4. The application does not meet the requirements of the PCT in the following respects:
 - 4.1 In claim 1 both the wording "a tube having a funnel-like shape" and the term "funnel" is used for the same part. Throughout the application the term "funnel" and not "funnel-like shape" is used. For clarity reasons (Art. 6 PCT) only the term "funnel" should have been used in claim 1.
 - 4.2 Claims 6 and 7 contain references to the drawings. According to Rule 6.2(a) PCT, claims should not contain such references except where absolutely necessary, which is not the case here.
 - 4.3 Contrary to the requirements of Rule 5.1(a)(ii) PCT, the relevant background art disclosed in the document D1 is not mentioned in the description, nor is this document identified therein.
 - 4.4 Independent claim 1 is not in the two-part form in accordance with Rule 6.3(b) PCT, which in the present case would be appropriate, with those features known in combination from the prior art (document D1, see paragraph 1 above) being placed in the preamble (Rule 6.3(b)(i) PCT) and with the remaining features being included in the characterising part (Rule 6.3(b)(ii) PCT).

- 4.5 The features of the claims are not provided with reference signs placed in parentheses (Rule 6.2(b) PCT).
